Many of the older families have ben hard hit by the high death duties imposed by the state as well as taxes generally and numerous old homes and castles have been sold outright, or divided into sub-divinsions for marketing, all of which has had a tendency to cut candle stick maker and other trades men who cater to the wealthy.

alarmed at the increased popular-ity of the "hand-me-downs," attribrestlesaness of the age. The average roung man of today, aver the tailors, will not spare a little time for his tailor, even though he had the money, as he is too impatient to wait a few days for results.

The jazz age is held responsible for the practice to decide on a suit, or anything else. in the morning, by it in the afternoon, and wear it at night.

Ready-to-wear plus-four suits and grey flannel outfits for summer are sold in London on a greater scale than at any other time. Clothing manufacturers say they have or-ders on hand for this class of work which will keep them busy for which will keep them busy for thre months at least. The sale of ready made blazer sand sports coats has increased to an even greater Orders for spring in the London tailoring shops, Easter notwith-standing, were reported to have seen only half of those of last year. Consequently there is gloom up and Saville Row, as in all the other rows and streets and alleys where there are tailor shops with time worn signs like this "Court tailors." "By Royal Warrants." Tailors to His Majesty, the King of Stam," and "Tailors to His Majesty, the Czar of Russia." and so on.
